

Underbelly Wine Bar

As musicians cover songs by other artists, chefs are frequently inspired by others' dishes and compelled to make a version of their own. Chris pays tribute to his friends around the country who have created dishes he loves with his "covers" menu, only available in the Underbelly Wine Bar.

"I've learned so much from other chefs," said Chris. "It's an honor for me to show them respect by giving my customers an opportunity to taste these dishes that have inspired me to be a better cook. Hopefully, my customers will seek out some of these restaurants when they travel to experience the original."
